The Colonial Dames of Virginia have placed a slab over the grave of Augustus Washington, father of George Washingington, at Great Bridge, Westmoreland county, and restored the tomb of his first wife, Jane Butler. The next effort of this organization will be the raising of funds to secure a silver service for the battleship Virginie, built at the New-port News Ship-yard. The Colonial Dames made a personal visit to President McKinley and secured his promise to have named after Virginia one of the great battleships then projected by the Navy Department. They propose that the service shall be very handsome.

The day before Easter I was so distressed with a cold and cough that I did not think to be able to take any duties the next day, as my voice was almost choked by the cough. The same day I received an order from you for a bottle of your Cough Remedy. I at once procured a sample bottle, and took about three doses of the medicine. To my great relief the cough and cold had completely disappeared and I was able to preach three times on Easter Day. I know that this
